The state contest for Conservation Queen is a part of the two day meeting of the State Association of soil conservation district supervisors being held August 8 and 9 at Gould Academy.

Lillian graduated from Paris High School in the Class of 1959. She took the commercial course, won the Husson College award and plans to enter the Farmington State Teachers College to major in home economics and become a home demonstration agent. A National Honor Society student this year, Lillian has been active in the Glee Club, was head majorette this year, played varsity basketball and softball, has been class representative and president of the Girls Athletic Association, was a member of the Student Voice staff, Junior-Senior prom committee, play committee and took part in the science fair. She was Girls State delegate and a D. A. R. candidate. Lillian has been very active in 4H Club work. She is co-president of the Ready Workers Club, and won the county 4H dress revue two successive years.

At the Bethel contest Miss Rowe will demonstrate baton twirling for the talent part of the contest. Some six or eight candidates will compete for the title of Maine Conservation Queen.

Elden "Denny" Shute Jr. of Farmington will act as Master of Ceremonies at the contest. Judges will be Joseph Newcomb of Scarborough, Mrs. Tommy Haines, Fort Fairfield, and Mrs. Harold Cummings, Maxfield.

Robert D. Hastings, East Bethel, will be toastmaster at the banquet. Commissioner of Agriculture E. L. Newdick, Augusta, will crown the winner of the contest at the banquet the evening of August eighth. Other guests of honor include Commissioner Austin L. Wilkins, Maine Forest Service, and Mrs. Wilkins and Dean Winthrop C. Libby, College of Agriculture, University of Maine and Mrs. Libby. Floyd W. COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Planning Board is being reactivated to review the Zoning Ordinance that was approved in 1958. In several instances there is a need for revision. The hearing regarding the large advertising sign at the intersection of Main and Railroad Streets shows a need for an ordinance regulating advertising signs. The Planning Board will act on the matter and make recommendations to a town meeting for approval of the voters. The following persons have been appointed: Henry Hastings, 5 year term; Ruth Carver Ames, 4 year term; Thomas Brown, 3 year term; Richard Bryant, 2 year term; and Paul Thurston, 1 year term.

The last time parking lines were painted on the streets was in 1957. For various reasons they were not repainted in 1958 or 1959. It was expected that the work would be done early in the summer. The latter part of April a call was made to the Town of Rumford to hire their painting machine. It just became available to us this last week. However even with all the delay the work is finally completed.

Three more customers were added to the West Bethel Water System this week. There is now a total of 19 water customers.

We are all very grateful that Volunteer Fireman, Stanley Gallant, escaped with only minor injuries as a result of the fire truck hitting the train. The truck was a complete loss. Damage to the fire equipment of the truck is minor. There is no insurance coverage, as it has never been the policy of the town to carry collision insurance on any vehicles, except the Mack Pumper which has a $500 deductible. No plans have been discussed yet as to replacing the vehicle.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

BETHEL, MAINE

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Another year "Mush" has come across with the bus for East Bethel as well as Bethel village and West Bethel. Our children are going to get the chance again to learn swimming techniques that one day may save their lives or help them to save others. We feel especially indebted to Mush because we realize the greater distances to East Bethel and South Bethel and naturally the added wear and tear on the bus.

We appreciate it so much that we here in East Bethel and South Bethel plan to do all we can to recompense him to the whatever extent we can. Few, if any of you, I'm sure, realize that Mush has received no money for the bus. We feel it is an imposition for one man to stand the expense. Mr. Ames informs us there is no way for the Red Cross to allot money for the bus cost. The Red Cross only pays the instructor.

We have had one food sale and plan another one for Monday, Aug. 8 (adv. elsewhere). All proceeds go to Mush to help defray the cost of the bus making this trip.

This is all against Mush's wishes as he insisted he didn't want us to do anything, that it wasn't right for us to pay him when the village and West Bethel didn't. We want, though, as it does mean so much to our children. Maybe some of you parents in the other parts of Bethel, whose children are receiving bus transportation will do something to help Mush out on the expenses of the bus also.

COUNTRY FLAVOR

BLUEBERRY PIE

The fact that favorable events eventually balance the unfavorable is one reason the countrymen plod unworriedly through the seasons on his hillside one-horse farm. If the pens disappointed, the potato crop looks good; if the birds took most of the cherries, the Astrakans give promise of juicy pies and tangy sauce. Wild raspberries were scarce this year, but highbush blueberries are well laden.

A topflight blueberry pie is one reason why August is endurable. A man enjoys picking a few quarts. With a two-quart lard pail fastened under a suspender button, he uses both hands to gather the fruit. Highbush blueberries are definitely better in flavor than lowbush, and one does not have to scramble around on scratched knees or endure an aching back. Highbush berries with their 12 large seeds are not even in the same category with the smaller seeded, more flavorful, and sweeter highbush fruits.

Two deplorable aspects of the blueberry pie situation are that many cooks do not make them juicy enough, and that they do not sprinkle on a whiff of cinnamon just before the top crust is riveted tight. The blueberry needs that touch of spice along with the sugar and dust of butter to bring out the full, saliva-starting flavor.

A test of a blueberry pie is whether it is sufficiently juicy so that one must eat it with a dessert spoon. It isn't mentioned in the constitution, but one of man's inalienable rights is a blueberry pie so juicy that nothing except a spoon serves as a logical eating tool. If a man can have two or three pies a week of this caliber, he can face the on-coming visit of his wife's sister's family with some degree of equanimity.

Even vanity forbids man to be vain; and pride is a hooded hawk which flies in darkness.

—Mary Baker Eddy

TODAY'S Meditation

Thursday, August 4

Read Mark 4:35-31

O Lord, how manifold are thy works! In wisdom has thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches. (Psalm 104:24.)

We were living for a few weeks in a seaside cottage. One night a severe storm awakened us with resounding crashes of thunder and the roar of the sea. In the morning the sun broke through the clouds and shed its light upon every dancwave. Color and brilliance replaced the blackness of the night. Our sense of the majesty of God in the storm was followed by a feeling of trust and security.

God our Creator reveals himself in manifold ways. The night and the day, the storm and the sunshine are alike in His keeping. The marvels of the world unite with the handiwork of the heavens in declaring His provision and love. He overcomes our anxieties and fears. Our faith in Him can carry us safely through the darkest period of life into the light and peace of eternity. All of life, here and beyond, is ordained to bring God's light and beauty into our souls.

PRAYER: Eternal God, who hast created and knowest all things, we come into Thy presence with reverence. How great and compassionate Thou art to consider our needs! May we accept Thy grace and sovereign will in our lives. We pray in Christ's name. Amen.

Thought for the Day: Today I will seek a closer fellowship with God.

Bids will be opened by the State Highway Commission on Aug. 25 for the construction of about two miles of highway on Routes 5 and 55 along the southeasterly edge of the White Mountain National Forest. The work will extend from the built-up section of East Stoneham along Route 5 through Albany to Lynchville where Route 5 turns north. Construction will continue along Route 55 from this junction into Watford and end about two-tenths of a mile southeasterly of the Albany-Watford town line.

There are two major relocations, the larger about a mile in length, the other a little under two-tenths of a mile long which will bypass bad curves and grades on the existing road.

Approximately halfway along the project, a new bridge will be built over Crooked River, downstream from the existing bridge. It will consist of a steel and concrete superstructure on concrete abutments with an overall length of 55 feet and a roadway width of 22 feet. The new bridge will get a bituminous concrete wearing surface and a concrete rail. The completed section of highway will have a 20-foot bituminous treated pavement and 4-foot gravel shoulders.

THE PLUMB LINE

Before you say that the voice of God has never come to you, stop and think. The voice may come as a human voice speaking, only louder. Or it may come in many ways, sometimes so gentle that we do not even hear it. It was that way with Elijah: "not in the fire, whirlwind, or earthquake—but in a still, small voice."

Think of how the voice came to a certain farmer, who was deeply shocked by the way people were living in the city. They may not have been any worse than the people at home, but he thought they were.

"Why doesn't God do something about it?" he asked.

On the way home from the city of Bethel, he stopped for a moment to watch a builder at work on a new house.

Before the builder started to erect the wall, he set up a plumb-line. Exactly as builders to today, he hung a weight on a piece of string, and let it hang free.

He knew that this string would be straight up and down. A wall built by it would be straight and true.

He had seen that done a hundred times. But this time a light snapped on in his soul. Inside, a voice spoke, "Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb-line in the midst of my people."

God had spoken. He spoke to the prophet Amos, as He speaks to all men everywhere, as He speaks to us, in our own experience. Blessed are we if we hear the voice when it comes.
